PATTERN BOOKLET

Retracement on real charts

36 real examples from Nifty 500 stocks, 2015 to 2026. Study the shape until you can see it without help.

real examples	different stocks	daily charts

Education only. No advice, no promise of results.

Train your eye

This booklet has one job: to make the pattern familiar. Read it slowly, then test yourself.

1. Look at the shaded band first.
   It marks where the setup forms. Notice its shape and where it sits.

2. Then read left to right.
   What did price do before the band? What does the band itself look like?

3. Repeat across many stocks.
   The same shape appears in different stocks and different years. 36 examples are here on purpose.

4. Test yourself.
   The last section shows charts without the band. Find the setup, then turn the page to check.

5. Open on TradingView.
   Every example has a button that opens the stock on the daily chart. Scroll back to the printed date.

Prices are left off on purpose: read the shape, not the numbers. Examples come from real data and are picked evenly across the years, not for how they ended. This is education, not advice.

01

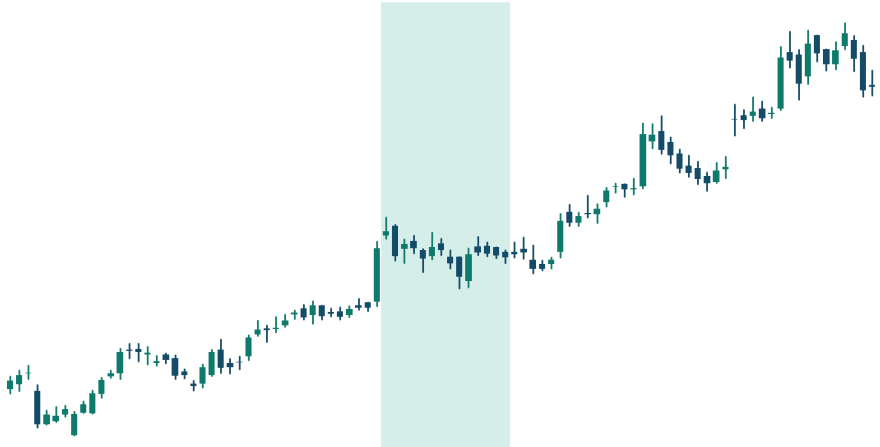

Retracement

A strong move pauses and gives part of it back.

After a strong leg up, price pulls back into the 38 to 62 percent zone of that leg and forms a higher low. The shaded band on every chart runs from the top of the leg to that higher low.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR

- A clear leg: a swing low, then a swing high, with real distance between them.
- A pullback that gives back about 38 to 62 percent of the leg.
- A higher low at the end of the pullback, above where the leg began.
